

Says U.S. Budget Next Year Will Be Tight

President Says He Will Ask Tax Hike

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—President Truman said today his government budget for 1950-51 will be a tight and honest one, but indicated once again that he will call for a tax increase to avoid a deficit.

He told a news conference it was easy enough to talk of cutting expenditures, which many in both parties have advocated ahead of higher taxes—but it is much harder to accomplish.

He said congress talked economy during consideration of the current $42,000,000,000 budget, but sent him one larger than he recommended.

Ask Comment On Report

The discussion of budget and taxes—close to every American's pocket-book—started with a request for comment on a published report which a newsman said indicated the administration had abandoned any effort to balance the budget and there would be no tax raise.

The president said the story was incorrect.

"Are you going to recommend an increase in taxes?" he was asked.

That will be covered in his legislative and economic messages for 1950-51 in January, he replied. He added he had said about 19 times that there is no other way to avoid deficit financing. Latest official estimates have set the prospective deficit for the 1949-1950 year ending June 30, 1950, at $5,500,000,000. Some senators have placed it much higher.

Why wasn't that done in the last session? Mr. Truman wanted to know. He said he sent congress a tight budget, but it returned one exceeding his figures.

He went on to say his new budget will be just as hard to do anything with as the current one. He would not say whether it would be larger or smaller than this year's. His budget director, Frank Price, recently told reporters it would be somewhat between $40,000,000,000 and $45,000,000,000, despite an expected cut of $1,000,000,000 in Marshall plan aid.

He would not comment on James Roosevelt's bid for Gov. Earl Warren's seat in California. He said the president never mixed in primaries. When democratic candidates are picked and ready to grapple with republicans, he'll take a hand if necessary, he added.

Veep, Mrs. Hadley To Be Married Today

St. Louis, Nov. 17.—(P)—A beaming Vice President Alben W. Barkley arrived today for his wedding at 11 a.m. (CST) tomorrow to the comely widow he has courted diligently since they first met last July.

The commercial plane on which he traveled from Washington was delayed 40 minutes by strong headwinds. His bride-to-be, Mrs. Carlton S. Hadley, 36, was on hand to greet him at the airport along with a crowd of newsmen and others.

They shook hands and chatted but did not embrace.

After they said they were glad to see each other, Mrs. Hadley observed, they were well chaperoned. "Yes, you have quite a committee here with you," Barkley replied.

Asked by a reporter whether he was glad to be here, the vice president, who will be 72 next Thursday, paused and then said with a smile: "Well, yes, reasonably so."

The busy afternoon called for a wedding rehearsal in a chapel at St. John's Methodist church, where the wedding ceremony of the year will be performed.

There were a number of other last-minute details. A marriage license which has been waiting at the city hall for a week had to be picked up. A dinner for members of their families was to be held tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Neidringhaus, friends of Mrs. Hadley.

With Mrs. Hadley at the wheel, the Veep and his fiancée drove from the Municipal airport in the new $3,000 convertible Barkley gave her as a wedding gift.

As they walked away from the plane, Mrs. Hadley told Barkley she has a surprise for him, that she had a new car.

"Is that so?" Barkley said.

"Where'd you get it?"

"Oh, I got it from a friend."

"A boy friend?"

"Now, Alben, you know I didn't say that."

Baruch To Leave His Estate To Help Physical Medicine

New York, Nov. 17.—(P)—Bernard M. Baruch plans to bequeath his entire estate to the promotion of physical medicine.

But he's not telling how much that will be.

The elder statesman and philanthropist, who is 79, made millions years ago speculating on Wall street and developing sulphur companies and various mines.

But, with a broad grin and a twinkle, Baruch said in an interview today the size of his fortune "isn't anybody's business." He quickly added, "It's much smaller than you think. I've spent a lot."

However, the tall, white-haired adviser to presidents was definite about his deep interest in physical medicine. This field employs light, heat, cold, massage, water, electricity, occupational work—exercise, muscular manipulation and various mechanical devices in the diagnosis and treatment of diseases.

Baruch has been supporting such projects for some time. In 1942, he gave more than $1,000,000 for physical medicine work, especially for the treatment of disabled veterans and other handicapped people. He said then, "if it works out, I am prepared to put most of my fortune into it."

The money was used by the Baruch committee on physical medicine and rehabilitation for research, college scholarships and in creating a blueprint on how a rehabilitation center should operate.

Harvard, Columbia, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, New York University, the Medical College of Virginia and several other institutions received grants. Baruch takes particular satisfaction in knowing that some money went to the Medical school in Richmond, Va., from which his father, Dr. Simon Baruch, was graduated to become a distinguished physician and confederate army surgeon.

Truman Will Use T-H Club In Coal Dispute

Denounces China Red's Arrest Of U. S. Consul

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—President Truman today denounced as outrageous the imprisonment of American Consul Angus Ward by the Chinese Communists at Mukden.

The chief executive made his terse angry comment at a news conference late today after he had spent 70 minutes this morning reviewing with Secretary of State Acheson the State department's developing spot Communism program for the Far East.

Out of that meeting, to which Acheson took all his top Far Eastern policy makers, came an announcement of two moves in the immediate future. The announcement, which Mr. Truman later declined to expand, disclosed:

That Ambassador Philip C. Jessup, Acheson's trouble-shooting diplomat, will make an on-the-spot survey of conditions in the Far East. He will leave the United States in late December, begin his work in Tokyo, and return home by way of India and Pakistan.

That top U.S. diplomats from all over the Far East will gather at Bangkok, Thailand (Siam), in late January policy conference. Jessup will attend.

Efforts of reporters to obtain from the president additional information on today's meeting were futile. The president said the announcement covered the subject.

But when he was asked what he thought about the imprisonment of Angus Ward, he summed his view in five sharp words: He thinks it's an outrage.

What this country might do about it he did not say.

Ward and four staff members of the Mukden consulate were jailed Oct. 24 on charges of having beaten a Chinese employee. American efforts to make direct contact with Ward, or to get official information about the case and obtain his release have been rebuffed both by Mukden authorities and the Chinese central government at Peiping.

Promises Measure In Emergency

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—President Truman promised today to use the Taft-Hartley club in the soft coal dispute—but only if an emergency loomed.

The president would not admit that an emergency would arise if 380,000 soft coal miners again walked out at the end of John L. Lewis' truce on Dec. 1.

The United Mine Workers chief last week sent his men back to dig coal for three weeks more after a 52-day strike.

Rules Out Fact Finders

Mr. Truman, at his news conference, ruled out appointment of the kind of fact-finding board he named in the recent steel dispute. It had power to recommend a settlement outside the labor law.

Mr. Truman, pressed from several angles for a specific blueprint of his possible moves to head off a resumption of the coal strike, was quick to say he was relying on the Taft-Hartley act. This law provides for 80-day anti-strike injunctions.

Mr. Truman responded with a flat "no" when asked whether he intended to take any steps short of Taft-Hartley in dealing with the coal dispute.

When asked what he would do December 1, the president fell back on his stock reply that he would cross that river when he came to it. Will Not Hesitate.

He said he would not hesitate to use the Taft-Hartley act and all the laws on the books. He added that he has his job—to enforce the laws.

But he said no emergency existed right now.

For days labor and White House advisers have been discussing the possibilities that Lewis would be offered the chance to submit his case to a board appointed by the president and empowered to propose a solution.

Some reporters concluded that Mr. Truman had decided shortly before his news conference against giving Lewis the opportunity to reject a fact-finding board outside the Taft-Hartley law. Lewis is believed to be against such a step.

Presidential advisers indicated right up to this afternoon that such a move was contemplated.

Catch Murderer Of Six-Year-Old

Atlanta, Nov. 17.—(P)—A girl identifying herself as Dorothy Jennings, the missing 16-year-old daughter of a Cincinnati business executive, was picked up here today.

The blonde girl was placed in the city jail. She gave her home as Fort Mitchell, Ky., which is across the river from the Ohio city.

Miss Jennings disappeared from an exclusive boarding school in Cincinnati last Monday.

Policeman A. L. Donald said the girl listed her name as Dorothy Jennings and gave her age as 16.

Girl, 7, Is Found Murdered In Idaho Irrigation Canal

Burley, Idaho, Nov. 17.—(P)—Glenda Joyce Brisbois, blonde, seven year old first grader, was found murdered in an irrigation canal today.

Hope for an early capture of her kidnaper faded abruptly, however. Officers ran down a car which had been thought to be driven by the slayer, but immediately released the driver.

Sheriff Jess Carlton of Twin Falls county, who was assisting Cassia county officers and state police in the manhunt, did not identify the driver. But he said the motorist, whose movements had been followed by circling radio-equipped planes, was not the killer.

"That leaves us with a cold trail," he said.

Burley Police Chief Bill Williams, who reported finding a man's footprints on the steep canal bank where Glenda's battered body was found, said "it will be like looking for a needle in a haystack now."

Glenda's body was located about 18 hours after she was kidnapped from a street near her home. Her head had been gashed by two blows from a sharp instrument. She was fully clothed.

The ditch was one mile southeast of this city of 5,300 persons, which is 165 miles south of Boise and 200 miles north and west of Salt Lake City.

Flares Spur Hopes That Downed B-29 Crew Still Alive

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 17.—(P)—Two red flares spotted in the ocean 240 miles northeast of Bermuda and faint radio signals spurred the search tonight for survivors of a B-29 which crashed landed off this island with 20 aboard.

A search plane spotted the flares. This was the first break in a vast hunt by air and sea for the U.S. Air Force Superfortress. It ditched in the Atlantic yesterday with its fuel gone and its radio equipment impaired.

Shortly after the flares were spotted, another search plane heard faint radio signals which they believed might be coming from the signal equipment known to be available to the men from the ill-fated B-29.

This plane, piloted by Capt. J. G. Martin, returned to Kindley Field. Calculations showed that the radio signals were coming from the exact area where the flares had been reported.

Meanwhile Capt. K. T. McFarland, Jr., pilot of the plane which had spotted the flares, hovered over the area. A flying fortress was dispatched to the scene equipped with flares, emergency supplies and a dinghy, but had to return to Kindley Field when its gas supply ran low. However, another flying fortress with similar equipment and a PBV—a flying boat—were ordered out immediately.

World Corn Champ Finds Canada Is Good Farm Country

Toronto, Nov. 17.—(P)—E. W. Doubett of Hanna City, Ill., who calls himself a "Bill-Billy Farmer" despite the fact that he won the world corn championship at the Royal Winter fair here, found Canada a big surprise.

"I always considered Canada a little place cut out of the woods," he said. "I didn't know there was such good farm country." The 47-year-old corn champion said today in an interview.

Doubett took the title with his latest corn hybrid, D42, the 42nd corn hybrid he has developed on his 320-acre farm. Two hundred acres of his farm are devoted to corn and he farms it all with the help of only one man and his nine-year-old son who drives a tractor.

"I was very much surprised to see such large ears and quality of corn grown here," he said.

He was born in Wheeling, W. Va. Burial will there after funeral services Saturday in St. Anastasia Roman Catholic church, Waukegan.

Jury For 2nd Hiss Trial Selected; Bridges On Trial

By The Associated Press

It took less than two hours yesterday (Thursday) to pick a federal jury for the second perjury trial of Alger Hiss, a former ace of the U. S. state department.

Opening arguments are the next scheduled step in the government's case against the slim 45-year-old Hiss. He is accused of selling out his high government office to a pre-war spy ring and then lying to cover up his actions. A jury tried him last spring but could not reach a verdict.

In San Francisco, a jury also was chosen to try CIO longshore leader Harry Bridges. A native Australian, Bridges is accused of perjury and conspiracy to defraud the government at his 1945 naturalization hearing. At that time, he testified he never was a communist.

Judith Coplon, the 28-year-old former government girl, also heard trial on spy conspiracy charges in New York. Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan prepared to clear the deck of pre-trial motions. Valentin A. Gubitzhev, a Soviet engineer, is being tried with the brunette Miss Coplon this time.

Also in New York, a federal grand jury indicted 33-year-old John David Provo, a former army staff sergeant in the Pacific, on 12 charges of wartime treason. The maximum penalty on conviction is death. He is accused of going over to the Japanese during the war and later causing the execution of an American army captain.

Worst Typhoon Of Year Damages U.S. Station At Guam

Honolulu, Nov. 17.—(P)—The worst typhoon of the year heavily damaged the big Pacific base of Guam tonight.

The Commercial Pacific Cable Co. received the news in the first dispatch from its Guam office since the storm roared in with winds of nearly 145 miles an hour.

The Guam office said "the whole island was severely damaged" and it would be "some time before normal conditions are restored." It was the first word since cable traffic was halted last night.

Forewarned, the island's population, including hundreds of American service personnel and civilian employees, had prepared for the blow and then had taken shelter in caves and the few heavily-constructed buildings.

The air force weather wing at Tokyo, 1,500 miles to the north, reported it had received a message that the storm struck at 4:30 p.m. Guam time, and that winds rose to nearly 145 miles an hour.

Pacific fleet headquarters received radio reports that by 4 a.m. Friday, Guam time (1 p.m. Thursday, EST), wind velocity was 93 miles an hour and declining rapidly. An hour and a half later it was down to 60 miles an hour, and the Guam command ended 153 hours of "typhoon condition one"—the top emergency condition.

"I went into a bar and decided to have a good time for the last time. I went out and looked over a pier there in Ocean Park and decided I had better jump off and get it over with. Then I got to thinking, 'you've got to suffer on the other side so you might as well do some suffering on this side.'" Simpson quoted Stroble as saying.

Stassen To Speak At GOP Meeting

Deatur, Ill., Nov. 17.—(P)—The Illinois Young Republicans club today announced that Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, will address the group's Lincoln Day dinner, Feb. 11.

Ben Shafter, president of the statewide GOP club, said the dinner will be held in the Abraham Lincoln hotel in Springfield.

Shafter said the affair will wind up a membership drive beginning Dec. 15. Some 700 persons are expected for the dinner and convention, he said.

Heavy Fog Lifts Early

Lifting of a thick early morning fog aided the mile-by-mile hunt for the missing man. But hope dwindled with the hour.

A fishing resort owner, Edward Kenyon, reported that a flier who gave his name as Lt. Warren P. Sharrock, pilot of one of the planes, staggered into his place and told of the crash. The public relations office at the Fairfield-Suisun air base said they could not confirm that Sharrock survived.

The sheriff's office had quoted Kenyon as saying Sharrock had gasped out "the other plane ran smack into us." Sheriff's deputies and air force officers later said Sharrock had not turned up anywhere. The armed forces public relations office in San Francisco suggested that the circumstances indicated Sharrock had been confused for one of the confirmed survivors.

Sharrock was the co-pilot of the plane which crashed on the Rindge tract on a delta island. Pilot of the other plane was Lt. George B. Grider of Spokane, Wash.

The planes, both from Spokane, Wash., and part of a 92nd Bombardment Group flight of 13, came down with a splintering impact on neighboring delta islands.

East Of San Francisco

The scene was the river built farm land interlaced with winding channels nine miles west of Stockton and some 70 miles east of San Francisco.

(A third Superfort was missing in the Atlantic in a separate mishap. It went down near Bermuda yesterday with 20 aboard.)

Only Pvt. Keith R. Burns, 19, of Boise, Idaho, radio operator, was known to have survived among the 10 on the B-29 which crashed, spouting smoke and flame, on McDonald island.

The other two bailed out of the second plane which narrowly missed a ranch bunk house with 30 workers and splattered on Rindge tract on a delta island two miles north across a river channel.

IC Trains Stopped During Coal Strike Resume Operations

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(P)—The Illinois Central railroad today announced that trains discontinued because of the coal strike will be restored to service beginning Nov. 20.

The road said it was complying with an Interstate Commerce commission order earlier this week releasing railroads from a 25 per cent cutback in running coal-burning trains. The ICC originally ordered the reduction to conserve coal during the 52-day coal strike.

Train No. 29 from Chicago to Carbondale, Ill., will be restored Nov. 20. Trains scheduled for renewed operation Nov. 21 are Nos. 101 and 102, between Louisville and Fulton, Ky.; No. 30, Carbondale to Chicago; No. 32, Chicago to St. Louis; and Nos. 15 and 16 between Freeport, Ill., and Fort Dodge, Ia.

The oak is a member of the family of beeches, and there are over 20 species of the tree.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 17.—(P)—Authorities said a son accidentally killed his father today while the two were hunting in Wesley township, south of Joliet.

The dead man was Louis Ennesser, 51, 3522 S. California avenue, Chicago, manager of an ice plant.

Donald Ennesser, 20, told Will county authorities his 12 gauge shotgun was discharged accidentally as he was reloading after firing at a rabbit. He said the charge struck his father, who was standing about 12 feet in front of him, in the back.

The wounded man died in an ambulance enroute to a Joliet hospital.

18 Flyers Killed As B-29's Collide

Planes Crash In Mock Bomb Run In West

Stockton, Calif., Nov. 17.—(P)—Eighteen flyers were killed last night as two B-29s collided in a mock bombing run.

Three of the 21 crewmen parachuted to safety from the plunging Superforts—one plane in flames, the other "spinning like a top" from 26,000 feet.

Search parties located 10 bodies in one plane, and eight in the other. There was grim evidence that some of the dead had tried to get parachutes on.

Man Crushed As Wall Of Burned Building Collapses

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(P)—A four-story brick wall—all that remained of a building after a fire last night—collapsed today and killed a man in an adjoining building.

Crushed in the avalanche of brick was Timothy H. Ryan, Jr., 24, father of a one-day-old girl. Ryan's father and Jack Lerner fled to safety as the wall came tumbling down on the one-story building housing a cartage company owned by the elder Ryan.

Lerner, owner of the building (at 1451 Harrison street) which was destroyed by fire, was helping the Ryans move their supplies from the cartage company. Fire officials warned the Ryans that the wall might fall before it could be reinforced by wreckers.

As the wall gave way, passersby shouted to the three men. The elder Ryan and Lerner ran to the street, but the younger Ryan fled through the cartage building and was buried in a pile of rubble as the falling brick smashed through the roof.

The dead man's wife, Geraldine, 24, gave birth yesterday to the couple's first child.

Says Earl Lambeau Will Quit Post As Head Of Packers

New York, Nov. 17.—(P)—The Daily News said tonight that Earl L. Lambeau will quit his front-office post with the Green Bay Packers of the National football league to accept a general manager's berth next year with the Los Angeles Rams of the rival All American conference.

Lambeau, according to the News, decided to pull up stakes at Green Bay last week following a meeting in Chicago with Ben Lindheimer, multimillionaire who operates the Rams.

Last year rumors were ripe that Lambeau would jump to the AAC following a similar meeting with Lindheimer but Lambeau decided to stay another season with Green Bay, once a power in the National.

The News also said that Green Bay may surrender its franchise because of the poor attendance and finances the team has suffered the past two seasons.

As the wall gave way, passersby shouted to the three men. The elder Ryan and Lerner ran to the street, but the younger Ryan fled through the cartage building and was buried in a pile of rubble as the falling brick smashed through the roof.

Says Junket By State Group 'Cost Taxpayers Plenty'

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(P)—The Chicago Daily News said today that a 1949 junket by a state legislature commission "cost taxpayers plenty," and included winter trips to warm climates.

The commission, a 12 man group, was created by the 65th (1947) general assembly and given a budget of $25,000. It was called the area development commission to "help develop Illinois natural resources."

The newspaper said eight members went to California and two to Florida last January for 10 day traveling costing $11,286. Two other members charged $1,152 for an automobile trip to Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana. All but $1,587 of the budget was spent.

The expense accounts "showed lavish spending," the news said. A two page report by the commission later urged the legislature to create a permanent development commission with a $250,000 annual cost. The legislature did not take such action.

BOMB BLASTS BUILDING

Rome, Priddy, Nov. 18.—(P)—A district headquarters of Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democratic party, near St. Peter's, was damaged by a bomb early today. No casualties were reported.

Reps. Joseph L. Pfeiffer, (D-N.Y.); Thomas S. Gordon, (D-Ill.); Clement J. Zablocki, (D-Wis.); and Jacob K. Javits, (R-N.Y.).

Geese Learn Air Rescue Trick

Chillicothe, Mo., Nov. 17.—(P)—James Wadlow swears geese have learned that air rescue trick a paratrooper pulled off a few weeks ago. He insists he saw a loose swoop down under a wounded man and carry him up until he could make it under his own power. Not only does he swear, he lists two witnesses—Charles and Frank Romeiser of Utiaca, Mo.

Wadlow said he fired twice and the goose faltered in flight. Then he was too amazed to fire again as the second goose carried the first piggy-back for 150 feet.

A WARNING TO GET BUSY

Paul G. Hoffman, Marshall Plan chief, has laid down conditions for further U. S. aid to Europe that ECA countries may find difficult to meet.

He has told them that if they want to be sure of getting more money in 1950 they had better register substantial progress by next January in knocking down national tariff barriers and other obstacles to free trade.

Failure to achieve economic unity in Europe can only mean "disaster for nations and poverty for peoples," the ECA boss declared in Paris.

Hoffman is a hard-headed executive. He would not sound so serious a note without warrant. That he has used this tone suggests he has carefully appraised the temper of Congress and decided that ECA is in for a rough time unless Marshall Plan countries show some concrete results quickly.

But from now until January is hardly much leeway for this formidable task. The European nations have known from the start of the Marshall Plan that measures of unity were expected of them. Yet in almost two years they have made virtually no real strides toward that goal.

In view of this evident inertia, it is asking a great deal to call for a solid demonstration of economic collaboration in so short a span. Of course such progress is not impossible. But experience to date leads one to doubt that anything less than a severe shock will produce the results the United States is urging.

It is conceivable that genuine advances toward unity may not come until the Marshall Plan countries understand that warnings such as Hoffman's are not mere words. An actual cutting off of funds would certainly drive the lesson home. So might a statement from Hoffman or other high officials that an end to ECA will be proposed if Europe fails to take action soon.

Some foreign affairs experts may contend that however desirable unity is, this country has no right to insist upon it as a condition of continued assistance. But such argument is somewhat beside the point if Congress has actually determined to make that condition. ECA cannot live without annual congressional sanction. Europe must face the political realities of America.

None of the European countries is denying the wisdom of economic unity. All say they subscribe to the principle. What stops them from acting?

Basically, the trouble is that they are trapped by conflicting currents. They recognize the growing need for continent-wide solutions to their economic problems. But they feel heavy pressure from the long habit of nationalist thinking. This latter exerts a continuing drag upon any efforts to break down borders.

Nowhere is this dilemma more plain than in Britain. Even the firmest friends of the British admit that Britain's government behaves as if that country could somehow conduct its economic affairs free of entangling contact with continental Europe. There appears a strong desire to insulate the Labor Party's socialist experiments from outside shock.

Hoffman's warning in Paris makes clear that the time is at hand for Europe to choose between the prospect of real economic well-being and a clinging to an outworn policy which can only lead the continent into deepening distress.

Surgery Required To Make Prostrate Gland Shrink

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.,
Written for NEA Service

There are several kinds of prostate trouble. One of them—hypertrophy—is definitely associated with aging. Although in many men the prostate tends to shrink with age, in some it enlarges instead. Because of the position in which it lies, its increased size partly shuts off the free flow of urine.

The first sign ordinarily is delay and difficulty in beginning urination. This develops rather rapidly to a stage in which the bladder cannot be completely emptied. When this happens the bladder wall becomes thickened and therefore is unable to hold less urine so that the desire to urinate comes more and more often. As the amount of urine remaining in the bladder increases, the difficulty becomes worse. The bladder holds less and there is increasing frequency. This often shows up more at night.

Tube Can Be Used
Sometimes a man with an enlarged prostate suddenly may be unable to urinate at all. The bladder then has to be emptied by the use of a tube, called a catheter, which is passed into the bladder. With the help of a catheter the bladder can be emptied and the symptoms relieved temporarily. However, it is not usually advisable to rely on the constant use of the catheter tube nor to leave one in place for very long because of the danger of infection.

When the prostate has enlarged so much that the use of a catheter is necessary (or preferably earlier), expert advice and treatment is needed. There is no medical treatment for a hypertrophied prostate gland; that is, there is no medicine which can be taken or given which will make the prostate gland shrink. The treatment consequently is by surgery. For this several different methods of operating on the prostate gland are available to relieve the symptoms and to remove some of the excessive tissue.

Abraham Lincoln Council Now Has 3,200 Boy Scouts

Announcement was made Thursday by W. H. Kurtz of this city, president of the Abraham Lincoln Council, Boy Scouts of America, that the Council's boy membership had passed the 3,200 mark, establishing an all time high in the history of the organization.

This total consists of 1,200 Cub Scouts in 45 Cub Packs, 1,900 Boy Scouts and Explorers in 94 Scout Troops and 125 Explorers in 12 Senior units. This is a 22% gain since the first of the year and puts the local Council in 6th place among the 84 Councils in the Great Lakes region.

This outstanding membership gain will be recognized at the annual Council dinner meeting to be held at the Springfield Elks Club on Thursday evening, December 1st, which will be attended by over 300 Scouters, Cubbers and their ladies. Howard H. Peck, Council vice president who is in charge announced that Lester O. Shriver of Peoria, business man, world traveler and an outstanding speaker will make the address of the evening. As special guest of honor, C. M. Finnell of Chicago, who was the first Scout executive of the Council in 1919 will represent the national headquarters of the organization.

Other high-lights of the evening will be the awarding of Service Certificates to Scout and Cub leaders; the announcement of two Silver Beaver awards; recognition of units for outstanding membership gains; and the presentation of the 17,000th Scout to be enrolled by the Abraham Lincoln Council. Special decorations, music and other entertainment will make this a colorful and stimulating affair.

Delegations representing 40 Scout communities in the nine counties served by the Council are being organized by their local district committees.

Small Family?—Roast a Duck

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

If yours is one of the nearly 30,000,000 families in the United States who have three members or less, a roast duck is a happy choice for your Thanksgiving dinner.

We asked Mabel Stegner, noted expert on duck cookery, to plan a Thanksgiving dinner exclusively for this column.

"Start with chilled cranberry cocktail," she says, "adding a little dry white California wine if your taste runs that way. Then roast duckling gravied with fresh watercress and cubes of clear cranberry jelly. Accompany with buttered broccoli, candied sweet potatoes cooked in the oven while the duck roasts, and a colorful plate of raw vegetable relishes. Finish up with traditional pumpkin pie, or rich nutty pecan pie, and lots of hot black coffee."

Miss Stegner suggests preparing your duck like this: Cut off the neck and wing tips. Wash carefully in cold water. Stuff lightly with your favorite stuffing, made exactly as you always do and omitting none of the fat. You'll need about 4 cups, as much for a 3-pound roasting chicken and half that usually needed for a 10 to 12-pound turkey. A particularly good stuffing for roast duck, and one with a fittingly holiday flavor, is made with crumbled cornbread, plump meaty oysters and a bit of parsley. Next fasten the vent open-

Farmers Given 2 Extra Weeks To File Returns

V. Y. Dallman, collector of internal revenue, is in receipt of inquiries about changes made in the filing of income tax returns under the Tax Administration Act of 1949.

Collector Dallman explained Thursday a few of the important changes which relate particularly to farmers.

The new act now permits a taxpayer classified as a farmer to file a declaration by January 15 or a completed income tax return by January 31. This gives a farmer two extra weeks in which to complete his returns which is much to his advantage. This change in filing requirements applies only to farmers.

Employers are particularly interested in the fact that in the future a minimum penalty of $5 has been established for failure to file a return or pay income or social security taxes within the time required by law.

Further changes in the law stressed by Collector Dallman refer to an authorization in the new act to place many monthly returns on a quarterly basis and to authorize the payment of these taxes to U. S. depositories. This procedure at present applies only to withholding tax.

Further changes by the new legislation concern publication of names of officers and employees paid over $75,000 annually. The new act dispenses with that requirement.

Cherokees Carve Hillside Theatre To Stage Drama Of Their History

By NEA Service

Cherokee Village, N. C.—(NEA)—Johnson Catolster, a full-blooded Cherokee Indian, skillfully maneuvers his bulldozer around the mountains and along the cliffs of the Great Smokies, where he is one of a crew carving a new theatre out of a hillside.

On that hillside next July 1, there will be the world premiere of a play in the Mountainside Theatre. Catolster is helping to build. The play is one of the most ambitious dramas ever written—in the 17 scenes of "Unto These Hills," author Kermit Hunter has compressed the history of Catolster's people, the Cherokee Indians.

Hunter, a member of the English department of the University of North Carolina, read his script to the Cherokee Historical association at a meeting here. The association, with both Indian and white members, listened and approved.

Hunter started with one of the first contacts made between a white and a Cherokee, the tribe that once roamed over 25,000,000 acres of the south from Virginia to Alabama. That early contact, in 1540, was the visit of the Spanish explorer, DeSoto, to the Cherokee territory.

From that starting point, Hunter tells the story of the whites' gradual encroachment on Indian territory. There is the story of frontier life. There are wars and battles. There is drama in the incident of Sequoyah, who wrote an alphabet to preserve the language of his people.

And finally, there is the thrilling episode of Tsali, a headstrong Cherokee who chose death by a firing squad in the 1830's rather than be herded into a reservation.

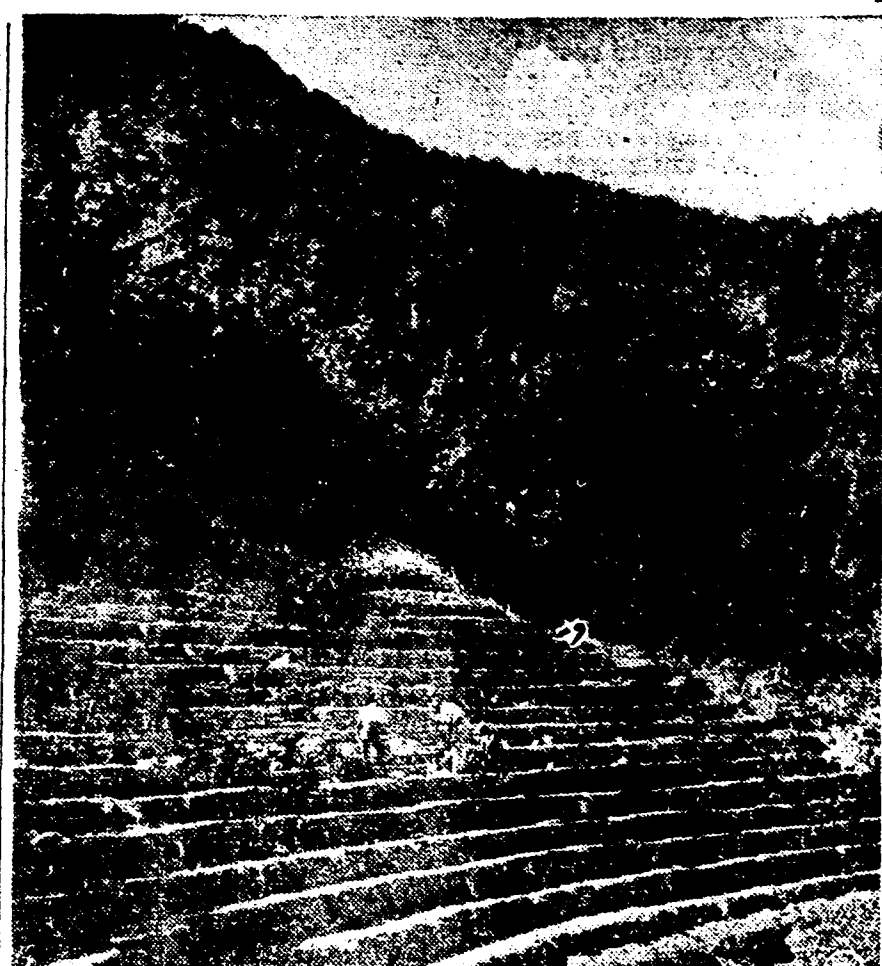

Music, written for the production, will be threaded through "Unto These Hills" to set the mood for each scene. And a cast of 50 to 100 actors and actresses will bring the play to life five or six times a week from July to Labor Day.

Cherokee Village is the chief settlement on the 56,000-acre reservation, called the "Kingdom in the Great Smokies." Only 2600 Cherokees now live on the reservation, but they are all enthusiastic about the prospect of the play which will be produced annually.

"Unto These Hills" will be given in a now-being-constructed open-air amphitheatre, which is taking form at the end of a gravel road leading off main highway 107. The Mountainside Theatre, as it will be known, is located near here on land donated by the Eastern Band of Cherokee.

Hunter, whose play was his thesis for his doctor's degree in English literature, won a major drama prize for the work.

One of the Indian council members, who listened quietly while Hunter read the play on the reservation, had one criticism to offer: "If there is a criticism to be made of this history of the Cherokee," he said, "it is that the writer has given more credit to the Indian and less to the white man than is due. In behalf of my people I would say that there is, indeed, much to be deplored. But I would say, also, in justice to the white man, that the Indian brought much of his sorrow upon himself. Let us give justice to both."

IN THE GREAT SMOKIES, this amphitheatre is being carved out of a hillside for the Cherokee drama that begins next summer.

Beginning next year, America's vacationing drama lovers will have another step on their summer tour. And a mixed group of whites and Indians is working to make "Unto These Hills" a major addition to American culture.

Better Corn Hybrids Expected

Washington—(AP)—Higher corn production is expected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Department experts have produced hybrids which will give 10 bushels to the acre more than those now used. Hybrid corn revolutionized U. S. farming and boosted production to new high levels.

Department experts say that still other hybrids are being used in different sections of the country. First attempts to use the early hybrids in the South, for example, were dropped because corn bred in Iowa did not grow well there. Now hybrids adapted to the area are being used.

FINDS VALUABLE PAINTING IN TRASH CAN

Los Angeles—(AP)—Poking through a rubbish heap paid off for Joseph Padore, a boilermaker with artistic leanings.

He turned up a painting identified as a 250-year-old work of an Italian artist, Vincenzo Oletti. Phil Bernay, Los Angeles art dealer engaged to restore the picture, said it is a copy of a masterpiece done in 1600 by Andrea Del Sarto, which now hangs in the Palazzo Pitti museum in Florence. It depicts the Holy Family.

Bernay estimated the painting to be worth at least $2,000 and theorized that it was discarded by a family unaware of its worth. The colors, he said, have retained their original richness and warmth. The finder, Padore, is a painter himself and has done a mural for his church.

India Spurns Soviet Idea

New Delhi—(P)—A proposal to adopt the Soviet pattern in the preamble of India's new constitution was rejected by the constituent assembly recently.

Maulana Hasrat Mohani, a Muslim member from the United Provinces, moved an amendment to name India a Union of Indian Socialist Republics, U.S.I.R. on the lines of the U.S.S.R.

The Maulana claimed that he was not a member of the communist party but only a sympathizer with communist principles. The assembly voted for the official preamble of "constituting India into a sovereign democratic republic."

The shape of a room has no effect on speed of reading or loudness of voice, but both the size of the room and reverberation does. You speak more slowly in a large room than in a small one, and you raise your voice in a small room because there is less reverberation.

WING TANKS ADD RANGE TO SUPERFORTRESS—A new version of the Boeing Superfortress, the B-50D, seen in flight over Wichita, Kan., carries two 700-gallon external fuel tanks under the wings. The long-range bomber, derived from the famed wartime B-29, can carry 28,000 pounds of bombs "more than 6,000 miles." Top speed is over 400 miles an hour, and the plane is equipped for refueling in flight to increase its range. The wing tank fittings can carry 4,000-pound bombs in place of the gas tanks.

Starlings Ignore Park; Big Problem Last Fall

Where are the hordes of starlings that plagued Central park last fall and early winter?

The big elm trees which at this time last year teemed with the noisy, unsanitary birds, are practically free from the pests. Even sparrows are giving the trees in the park the cold shoulder, according to observers.

Howard Reynolds, in charge of parking meter repairs, is an official witness that the starlings did not return this fall. A year ago the thousands of starlings presented a community problem—they were shot at, doused with fire hose, and serenaded with fire sirens. But all the rough treatment didn't appear to have much effect at that time.

The metal owls which were installed in tops of park trees several years ago to frighten starlings are still in position, although their eyes are probably glazed from long exposure to wind and weather. At times the owls seemed to command respect from the starlings, until last year when the feathered hordes moved into the business district.

A few small flocks of starlings have been observed this fall in residential districts. Why the main flight hasn't swooped down on Central park again is one of those mysteries of nature which man has a tough time solving. Business men, car owners, and the street department are content to enjoy the situation as it exists today, without delving into the question of why the starlings have not returned.

Pick Jury To Try Man Accused Of Molesting Child

A jury of eight men and four women was accepted at noon Thursday to try the case of the People against Robert Lindsey of West Morton avenue, charging with taking indecent liberties with a nine year old girl. Both Lindsey and the girl he is alleged to have molested last summer are colored.

The jurors are George A. Cline, Franklin; Walter H. Long, Ashland rural route one; Catherine J. Benson, John Tomhave and Ruth Shelburn, all of Jacksonville; Holland Burnett, Waverly; Charles Sperry, Jacksonville, John L. Stewart, Alexander; Eugene Bracewell and Ethel Stringer, both of Murrayville; George Matthews, Waverly; Lela Jewsbury, Jacksonville.

State's Attorney Albert Hall is in charge of prosecution, and Lindsey's attorneys are Edward J. Flynn and Harry G. Story.

Prospective jurors were warned by attorneys that much of the evidence would be of unpleasant and delicate nature, and were cautioned not to let this fact prejudice their verdict if accepted as jurors.

what happened to the price of coffee and why!

DURING the past several years, the world's production of coffee has declined, while consumption has been on the rise. Thus the demand has become slightly greater than supply on a world-wide basis.

In recent months a severe drought in one major coffee growing country, coupled with hurricanes and floods in other countries, has damaged the crop to be harvested next year. The extent of that damage is not certain, but it appears that early estimates were somewhat exaggerated.

protecting your supply

Many consumers, reading and hearing of this crop damage, have laid away an extra supply in their kitchens. This "run" on coffee in stores has produced a few localized and temporary "shortages."

If you have been limited by your grocer in the number of pounds of coffee you can buy, more than likely that is his voluntary attempt to protect his stock of coffee—and yours—until his next shipment arrives.

Remember, not a pound of coffee is grown in the United States; it is an imported commodity. Coffee companies here must depend upon growers in foreign countries for their entire supply.

where coffee prices start

Recently these growers, for the reasons mentioned above, together with other contributing factors, have been in a position to demand—and get—more money for their green coffee than ever before. Thus the prices of green coffees have risen by leaps and bounds. So rapid in fact, has been the climb, that we have been selling coffee to grocers and grocers have been selling to you, at prices below what was called for by the actual prices we were paying for green coffee in the producing countries the same day.

Coffee companies in the United States operate on a volume basis. The profit on each pound of coffee is small indeed. Without a tremendous volume there would be no profit at all. Likewise, the grocers of today sell coffee on a near-cost basis.

The increased price you are paying for coffee originates in the coffee growing countries—not with the roaster or your grocer.

No one can foretell how far this combination of unusual forces may push coffee prices upward, nor how long the situation may continue.

But we at Folger's believe that there is ample coffee on hand and in sight to supply the normal consumer demand for this special Mountain Grown coffee.

and we make this promise

When you buy Folger's Coffee it will be the same wonderful coffee with the individuality of flavor that has always set it apart from all other blends.

Considering how much pleasure a cup of Folger's Coffee gives you—surely you must agree that penny for penny Folger's still provides the most pleasure you can put on your table.

FIRE IN THE WIND

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—A gust of autumn wind and a backyard beach umbrella teamed to make a memorable afternoon for Mrs. Shirley Sweetland. It was a windy day but Mrs. Sweetland became alarmed when a particularly violent blast roared through her backyard.

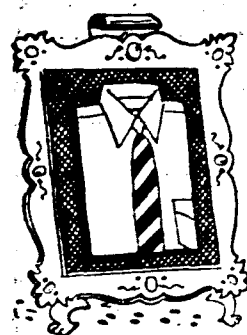

"I ran out and saw our table umbrella floating lily, 300 feet in the air. All at once it dropped. There was a blinding flash of light and then fire broke out under some power lines." The umbrella had short-circulted trunk wires and firemen had to extinguish a one-acre grass fire. In the Sweetland backyard two wooden tree supports were snapped and a steel support was buckled. The table which had supported the umbrella was upright.

Though its total border line is only 1600 miles, Austria is bounded by seven countries: Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Germany and Liechtenstein.

All She Wants For Xmas Is A Doll And Soda Pop

AD ALL SHE WANTS FOR XMAS Kansas City, Kans. — (NEA) — When Santa sorts out his mail he will find a letter from a seven-year-old girl who wants only "a doll and some American soda pop."

Susan Juzwiak was only a toddler when she was fed beer regularly in a German labor camp. Her parents gave it to her because there was little food and no milk or fruit juices. "I like beer," she exclaims in the same way most American children say, "I like candy."

But now little Susan, who came to America as a Polish Displaced Person last May, is beginning to like the new, strange-tasting soft drinks. She is fascinated by the "pretty water."

Like hundreds of other former DP children who will experience their first American Christmas, Susan is looking forward to seeing a Yule tree with tinsel and bright lights for the first time. Last Christmas she got a glimpse of a tiny, unlighted tree at the DP camp in Germany. The only "ornaments" were an apple or some article from a CARE package.

Susan never has owned a doll of her own—at least not in the American sense. An old piece of fabric, tied with string and crudely embroidered "face," was the only "doll" she ever had.

If Susan doesn't get just the kind of doll she wants from Santa, she'll understand. Her father, the only one in the family household who is employed, explained that Santa also must bring gifts for the five adults and Susan's 12-year-old sister, Christine, all of whom occupy the same four-room apartment in Kansas City.

Susan's father, Walter Juzwiak, a veterinarian, worked for a month as a dishwasher in Philadelphia, but now is a U.S. meat inspector in a Kansas City packing plant.

Little Susan was only 18 months old when her family was forced by the Germans to leave their home in Stanislaw in what was Poland before 1939 and now is known as the Soviet Ukraine.

Money Available To Schools Hurt By Federal Moves

Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—School districts in which federal government activities may have become a burden or an expense now have a chance to split up $7,500,000 in government money to help square things.

The general services administration said the money is available to aid school districts which:

1. Serve children living on federal reservations or other federally-owned property.
2. Have been overburdened financially by defense-incurred enrollments.
3. Have suffered reductions in school revenues because of the removal of taxable resources through U. S. acquisition or ownership of land.

Jess Larson, general services administrator, said in a news release that the aid will be restricted to:

School districts which received help during the last school year and are still in need.

Additional schools seriously in need as a result of federal activities, and not eligible for federal assistance from any other source.

The money will be used for maintenance and operation costs. None of it may be used for school construction.

During the past school year 147 schools districts received federal contributions to meet deficits. The appropriation for such aid was $3,000,000.

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 17—(P)—Heavy demand for automobile stocks strengthened today's market. In a broad advance, leading issues chalked up gains of fractions to nearly 3 points. Most advances were a point or less.
The rise was slow but showed little if any signs of faltering. Business was a bit faster than the average of recent sessions. Turnover hit a rate of around 1,400,000 shares for the full day.
Corporate bonds performed on a highly selective basis.

TIMID ADVANCE IN CORN AND WHEAT

Chicago, Nov. 17—(P)—Wheat and corn managed a timid advance on the board of trade today. Although they did not gain much, they did better than other cereals. Oats and rye eased while soybeans were mixed.
Approval of grants to France and Turkey by the economic cooperation administration backgrounded the gains in these cereals. France got $11,600,000 to buy corn and Turkey $6,160,000 to buy wheat and flour.
Corn also aided by sale overnight of 220,000 bushels to Norway and continued small receipts when compared with last year.
Rye recovered partly after dipping into new low territory for the year, a reflection of another early price break at Winnipeg. Deferred soybean contracts gained. A trade report the army wanted 6,600,000 pounds of cash lard helped futures in that commodity.
Receipts were: wheat 5 cars, corn 230, oats 24, rye 1, barley 23, soybeans 32.
Wheat closed 1-1/2 higher, December $2.09, corn was 1/4 to 1 cent higher, December $1.52, oats were unchanged to 1/4 lower, December 74, rye was unchanged to 1/4 lower, December $1.30, soybeans were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, November $2.21, and lard was 3 to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $9.55.

TRAFFIC JAM—No, this isn't a riot on a football field. It's just a routine shift under the platoon system as the ball changes hands in the Yale-Brown game in the Bowl. Plus the officials there are 47 men on the gridiron, the others being outside the camera's range. The Bruins, in white jerseys, beat the Elis, 14-0.

ORIGIN OF RADIO TUBE

New York—(P)—The radio vacuum tube in its present-day guise is the result of the work of many scientists. But in its early history three names stand out.
They are Thomas A. Edison, who in 1883 discovered the basic principle of the tube; John Ambrose Fleming of England, first to develop the detector tube; and Dr. Lee De Forest, who in 1906 improved the tube to the stage that opened the development of the modern radio and television systems.
The first cathode ray tube was built in 1897.

Leon Hart Of Notre Dame Is First End To Get Maxwell Award

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Leon Hart, a giant among giants, was chosen today as the first end to receive the Maxwell Memorial Award.

He was chosen by a vote of 100-0 by the members of the Maxwell Memorial Football Club.

In unanimously voting his annual award to the 265-pound native of Turtle Creek, Pa., the Maxwell club said:

Hart is an unusual end in this day of platoon football in that the Irish co-captain is an all-around performer. Not only is he the hub of the Notre Dame defense but Hart is a runner who could be a variety full-back, a glue fingered pass receiver, and a vicious blocker.

A leading candidate for all-American honors this year, Hart has been the key figure in leading Notre Dame to a thus far unbeaten season. His great performance against Michigan State two weeks ago won him the Associated Press lineman of the week award.

Only last week, National football league owners held a preliminary draft meeting to line up leading 1949 college talent and Hart was named number one draft choice by the Detroit Lions. Hart has indicated he wants to play pro ball when he graduates this June.

Already this year Hart has scored three touchdowns on passes and one on his familiar swing around end. In all the big fellow has nailed 12 passes for 162 yards and picked up 39 yards on six end-around maneuvers.

Statistics don't show Hart's defensive work in numbers but Coach Frank Leahy stands ready to attest to the many passes his end has batted down and the dozens of ball carriers he has crushed in their own backfield.

Hart joins an illustrious list of former football greats in winning the Maxwell award. His name and picture will be placed alongside former winners Clint Frank of Yale, Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian, Nile Kinnick of Iowa, Tom Harmon of Michigan, Bill Dudley of Virginia, Paul Gervin of Columbia, Doc Oell of Penn., Glenn Davis and Bob Blanchard of Army, Charley Trippi of Georgia, Doak Walker of Southern Methodist and the aforementioned Bednarik.

"When we encounter a team with a big center this year, we have no one to throw against him. We'll just have to spot those opponents points and try to outspeed them."

The current team is led by Bill Erickson, 6-1 guard who gained All-American honors last year as he totaled 345 points in 22 games and stood out on defensive play. Erickson, a senior from Rockford, ranked twelfth in Big Ten scoring with 124 points.

Other lettermen from the 1949 champions include Van Anderson, forward, Sullivan; Walt Kersulis, center, East St. Louis; Wally Osterkorn, center, Chicago (Amundson); Budette Thurby, guard, Kirkland; and Don Sundquist, guard, Elgin.

The Illini open on the road against Butler at Indianapolis, then play their first home tilt against Toledo University in Huff Gymnasium Dec. 8.

Balance of the schedule is: Dec. 10 at Oklahoma; Dec. 14, Arkansas; Dec. 17, Oklahoma; Dec. 22, St. Louis University; Dec. 23, U.C.L.A.; Dec. 27, Columbia; Dec. 30, Princeton; Jan. 2 at Wisconsin; Jan. 7 at Ohio State; Jan. 9, Purdue; Jan. 16, Northwestern; Jan. 21, Ohio State; Feb. 1 at St. Louis University; Feb. 4 at Minnesota; Feb. 11 at Iowa; Feb. 13, Indiana; Feb. 18, Michigan; Feb. 23, Wisconsin; Feb. 27 at Indiana; Mar. 4 at Northwestern (Chicago Stadium).

Illini Will Fight For Respectable Record Saturday

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 17.—Two of the Big Ten's oldest rivals will be out to salvage a respectable season's record in the Homecoming clash of Illinois and Northwestern at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in Memorial Stadium.

The Illini, young upstarts of the current campaign, will measure enmeshed success of 1949 on their ability to stop the Wildcats. A victory would give Illinois a 4-3-2 record, plus a first-division standing in the final conference tabulations.

Northwestern, on the other hand, is a senior team which has failed to live up to its advance ratings, despite fact it lost but two lettermen from the team which beat California in the Rose Bowl last January.

Cecil McVey's Virginia bunch travels to Arenville this evening for its coming out party. Chapin carries a perfect record to Franklin where Joe Treat's boys are making their debut after a successful six-man football season.

Roy Sarff's Chandlerville Comets, still smarting from the one-point defeat handed them by Arenville, go to Kilbourne this evening with blood in their eyes and vengeance in their hearts. Griggsville invades the Bluffs domain attempting to grab an opening victory at the expense of the oft-beaten Bluejay quint.

Bath opens the season at Ashland tonight, while Athens journeys New Berlin way to tangle with Pretzel ganz, seasoned by a pre-schedule game with Elumini.

There is one worthy of a man's talent. One of the country's most respected selectors, who rates teams on a hair-trigger point system of his own, makes Michigan 102.7, Ohio State 101.1. That must represent about a point after touchdown. That's our vote.

Tulane at Virginia—Again the best brains are unanimous that Tulane will dump the Cavaliers from the unbeaten roll, and we can't deviate this early in the game. But we would if Virginia's little passing wizard, Dick Michel, were not injured.

Rice to Win
Rice at Texas Christian—Don't let the fact that T.C.U. knocked off Texas last week fool you. Rice, still unbeaten in Southwest conference play, has the solid vote of the men with the slide rules. Ours, too.

Tennessee at Kentucky—For some reason not entirely clear, Kentucky seems to be regarded as a shoo-in despite Tennessee's 53-6 job on North Carolina a few weeks back. O. K. it is Kentucky, but we still wonder why.

Penn State at Pittsburgh—The selectors have split up on this old rivalry, but the odds-makers say Pitt by a touchdown, so Pitt it is. Every try to lick the odds-makers?

Wisconsin at Minnesota—The Gophers, through foggy around and still with an outside shot at the Rose Bowl, are substantial favorites to win by up to three touchdowns. Minnesota.

Baylor at Southern Methodist—The experts have taken such a kicking around in the southwest conference this year that they have become disgruntled and are quarreling among themselves on this one. With no real guidance, but with faith in Deak Walker—S.M.U.

Dartmouth at Princeton—This is the Ivy League's blue plate special for the week. Dartmouth is given an edge because of its win over Cornell last week.

North Carolina over Duke
North Carolina at Duke—With Charlie Justice back in their lineup, the Tarheels are in a humor to make somebody pay for what Notre Dame did to them in the final quarter last Saturday. They probably will, too.

UCLA at Southern Calif.—The Trojans have been established narrow favorites to still UCLA's last hopes of playing in the Rose Bowl. Southern Cal.

Harvard at Yale—Yep, they're still playing this one. Yale.

Other assorted choices for Saturday:
East: Boston Univ. over St. Bonaventure. Brown over Columbia. Fordham over Rutgers. Georgetown over George Washington. Syracuse over Colgate. Holy Cross over Temple. Villanova over North Carolina State.

Midwest: Purdue over Indiana. West Virginia over Western Reserve. Missouri over Kansas. Tulsa over Kansas State. Oklahoma A. & M. over Wichita, Nebraska over Colorado. Illinois over Northwestern. Heidelberg over Akron. Ohio Univ. over Buffalo. Ohio Wesleyan over Connecticut. St. Louis over Bradley.

South: Clemson over Furman. Alabama over Mississippi Southern. Georgia over Duquesne. Georgia Tech over South Carolina. Vanderbilt over Marshall. Louisiana State over Southeastern Louisiana.

Southwest and Far West: Arkansas over William & Mary. Michigan State over Arizona. Washington over Washington State. Oregon over Oregon State.

Yes, we're expecting great things of our Jacksonville gazelles this winter. Only time and Nov. 29 will prove us right or wrong.

Six Hardwood Fights In This Area Tonight

An even dozen high school basketball teams hit the hardwood tonight for what will be the inaugural tussle for some and "old stuff" to a quartet of sage veterans who launch- ed their winter campaign last Tuesday night.

Arenville, Chapin, Chandlerville and Bluffs fall into the latter category. Verdine Altizer's Arenville quintet nipped the Chandlerville Comets 37-36 earlier this week while Chapin was trouncing Bluffs, coached by a Culver Stockton school mate of Altizer's—Harold Hillman.

20 Bush Leaguers Head For Majors In Player Draft

Cincinnati, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Twenty bush leaguers, including four bonus players, headed for the majors today as 14 clubs picked up talent in baseball's annual draft at a cost of $182,500.

Detroit of the American League and Boston of the national league made their first draft choice since 1944 in beckoning Malcolm Mallette, a 26-year-old left-handed hurler, from Sacramento.

Fifteen of the 20 were selected from the Triple-A clubs, the Pacific coast loop surrendering seven, the international five and the American association three. Two leaped from the Double-A Texas loop, and one from the southern association of the same classification.

The Philadelphia Americans and the St. Louis Cardinals dipped deepest into the grab bag. The athletics paid $4,000 for Ed Hrabczak a 19-7 record pitcher with Stamford of the Class B colonial league, where he fanned 234 and allowed 188 hits in 225 innings. The Cardinals put $6,000 on the line to get outfielder Harold Stamey from Utica, N.Y., the bonus player having batted .311 for Americus, Ga., in the Class D Georgia-Florida loop last season.

The $182,500 price tag exactly matched that of the 1948 draft when 19 players were picked, but was far under the $275,000 of 1947, when 29 moved up.

Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler, who supervised the annual draft, said the clubs would be permitted to make further selections up to midnight Friday by telegraphing his office here.

Georgetown U. Accepts Offer To Play In Sun Bowl
Washington, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Georgetown university today accepted an invitation for its football team to play in the Sun Bowl game in El Paso, Tex., on Jan. 2.

Georgetown has won five games and lost three this year, but all its losses have been to first rate teams: Maryland, Villanova and Fordham. It still has one game to go, against George Washington here Saturday.

A Georgetown official said he understands Texas Tech is expected to be the Sun Bowl's host team.

Head-On Collision Kills 1, Hurts 4
Pekin, Ill., Nov. 17.—(AP)—A head-on auto collision near here today killed one man and injured four persons.

Raymond L. McGlothlin, 29, of East Peoria, Ill., driver of one car, was killed. State Police Lt. Clyde Bonjean said McGlothlin apparently lost control of the car on a curve on U. S. highway 24 and smashed into an on-coming vehicle driven by Arthur R. Stumpe, 58, of Kansas City, Mo.

Stumpe suffered chest injuries. His wife, Edith, 62, suffered a broken arm, and their passenger, Mrs. Louise Kimes, 60, also of Kansas City, suffered a possible skull fracture. All were placed in a Pekin hospital.

Miss Margery Conarro, 23, of Peoria, a passenger in McGlothlin's car, also was taken to the Pekin hospital.

Named President Of Girls Baseball
Chicago, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Fred K. Leo, Chicago, today was appointed president of the All-American Girls Baseball league to succeed Max Carey.

Carey, former major league star, resigned after serving five years to consider other offers.

Leo served as assistant to Carey for two years and also handled public relations for the league which played eight clubs in four midwest states. Leo previously was associated with radio station WMBD, Peoria, Ill., as sports director.

One Pleads Guilty As 13 Indicted On Morals Charges
Belvidere, Ill., Nov. 17.—(AP)—One young man pleaded guilty to statutory rape today in connection with Belvidere morals charges.

The charges involve 12 other men and nine high schools girls 13 to 15 years old, and "shocking" offenses in rural haymows.

Seven of those arrested pleaded innocent to rape or assault charges. Their trial was set for Dec. 5.

Three others appeared but did not enter pleas. Four of the 13 are in jail. The other nine are free on bond of $2,000 for each charge.

All 13 men were indicted after their arrest Oct. 12. Prosecutors said "shocking, sordid and horrid" offenses took place between June 20 and Oct. 11.

The men, all farm or factory workers, are accused of picking up the girls at an ice cream parlor and taking them to haymow outside town.

Alvin Mitchell, 19, Belvidere, pleaded guilty to rape. A plea for probation was taken under advisement in Boone county circuit court. The possible sentence is one year to life.

Doomed Morelli Asks For Turkey
Chicago, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Thanksgiving Day will be only a matter of minutes for James Morelli, but he wants to have a turkey dinner anyway.

Morelli will be placed in the electric chair—unless something unexpected happens—one minute after midnight Nov. 24. That was the punishment set for the 1947 murder of Emil Schmeichel, a brutal slaying that won for Morelli the sobriquet "mad dog killer."

The Illinois Supreme Court yesterday turned down Morelli's appeal. When Chester Fordney, county jail warden, told him about it, Morelli asked indignantly:

"What about my Thanksgiving dinner?"

Morelli complained that holiday fare at the jail is supposed to be chicken, and he wants turkey, a roasted one from home.

Geneva of the Class C Border League, in its first full season with the Brooklyn organization, captured pennant and playoff honors.

Six Valley Basketball Competitors Preparing For Upcoming Campaign

By John Campbell
Six Illinois Valley conference basketball teams are eagerly awaiting the hardwood season, which promises to be one of the best in conference history. Winchester high is the defending titlist, winning all 10 Ivy games last season.

The present six-team set up started back in 1943. From 1929 through 1936, eight teams formed the Ivy loop. At that time the circuit was divided into the Northwest and South east divisions with five schools in each. At the close of the 1942 season, Pittsfield, Griggsville, Pleasant Hill and Bluffs withdrew leaving the present six members.

Winchester's powerful five set about all the records in the conference books last year including the state scoring record for one season with an average of 69 points per game in 30 games. Coach E. W. Posey has one regular back from that great team—Harry Northrop.

A group of freshmen and sophomores will help the Scott county quint this season. Winchester opens the Ivy loop race with Carrollton Dec. 9.

White Hall Looks Good
White Hall's Maroons are looking up again this season with five lettermen and several good prospects from nearby Hillview high. Coach Berline's team placed second in the Greene County tourney last season. The Maroons open the Ivy campaign with the Roadhouse Roadrunners at White Hall on Dec. 9. A tough 20 game schedule confronts the Maroons and plenty of good basketball is in store for their followers this season.

The Roadhouse Roadrunners open their road with Pittsfield in a non-conference game at home, Dec. 2 and play at White Hall in the Ivy opener Dec. 9. Mason Campbell's Roadhouse five almost won the Regional title last year but lost to Jerseyville in the closing seconds. The returning lettermen in the Roadrunner camp are Hutton, Crabtree, Sutton, Bell and several promising Sophomores from last season. The Roadhouse five went to the "Sweet 16" under Coach Campbell in 1939 losing to Zeigler in the opening game, 22-11.

Carrollton Has New Coach
Carrollton high is playing under a new mentor in 1949-50. Dick Hamann has taken over the cage duties at the Greene County seat high school and has a fine bunch of boys out for the team. Included in this group are four former Eldred high cagers and two regulars from the Hawk lineup that took first in the Greene County tourney last season and fourth at the Winchester tourney.

Greenfield high athletes enjoyed their football banquet Wednesday night. Ray Hanson, athletic director at Western State college of Macomb was the principle speaker. The Tigers will be playing their second hardwood campaign under their young Coach Don Luketich and several veteran are back for this season. Bob Waltrip, Dean Cochran, Harold Cannedy and many others are back for this season. The returning lettermen in the Roadrunner camp are Hutton, Crabtree, Sutton, Bell and several promising Sophomores from last season. The Roadhouse five went to the "Sweet 16" under Coach Campbell in 1939 losing to Zeigler in the opening game, 22-11.

Workers have adopted a slow but sure pace and will hold their next report meeting Monday night, Nov. 21, at 6:15 p.m. at the Masonic temple. Cards of unworried people know that if they want them, they must be supported. The alternative is to go back to six individual cards with them so that they can conduct an "open field" for the next

Greene Reelected President Of NBA Over His Protests

Havana, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Abe Greene of Paterson, N. J., was reelected commissioner of the National Boxing Association over his own protests today.

When he was nominated, Greene attempted to decline "with appreciation and deep gratitude." That brought a storm of "no's" from the floor, so he reluctantly accepted.

Fred Saddy of Milwaukee, Wis., was elected president of the group succeeding Flamen B. Adae of Miami Beach, Fla. Saddy once boxed Jack Dempsey and commented: "That, my friends, was a mistake."

In the discussion from the floor after Greene was nominated, John Jordan of Asheville, N. C., said: "Greene should be continued in office for another term if for nothing else than as retribution of exaggerated reports that there has been a rebellion against him and the magnificent work he has done and is doing for boxing."

The motion to elect the nomination then was adopted. Eddie Bohm, Colorado delegate, and Joseph Triner of Illinois, both voted against Greene.

Virginia Legion Nets Good Profit On Annual Dinner

Virginia — Russell Decker and Commander Don Huff announced at the meeting of the Walter Reid Post No. 258 of the American Legion Wednesday evening in the Legion hall that a profit of $195.33 was made from the annual Armistice Day dinner which was held on Thursday, Nov. 10.

John Schaeffer, speaking for the committee on the home talent play, informed the post it would be impossible to hold this play until after the first of the year due to delay in receiving the play which they ordered.

A discussion was held in regards to a fire escape for the Legion hall, as it is deemed necessary in order to hold any large group meetings. Harold Noelsch, Dwight Edwards and Elmer Brannan were named as a committee to see that it is erected.

Commander Huff reported the receipt of a check for $100 from the mother of Walter Reid, whose name the post bears. This amount is to be set aside for the fire escape.

The American Legion Auxiliary was highly commended on their efforts in preparing the Armistice Day dinner.

Announcement was made of a joint meeting of all Legion posts and Auxiliary members in Cass county to be held in Arenzville on Monday, Nov. 21.

The local post decided after considerable discussion to assist the local auxiliary in raising funds towards gifts for the Yanks who are disabled. James Frisch, Richard Jumper and Don Huff compose the committee.

Disabled Veteran First To Receive Housing Loan

Scottsboro, Ala., Nov. 17.—(AP)—A disabled World War II veteran became the first farmer in the nation today to get a government loan to build a home.

Flanked by congressmen and other federal and state officials, 26-year-old Vaughn L. Jones received a $4,300 check to pay for a modern six-room bungalow and other improvements on his 81-acre place near Scottsboro.

The head of the farmers home administration himself, administrator Dillard D. Lasseter, came here to give Jones the check. The FHA administers the new farm home loan program authorized by congress this year.

Lasseter said the loan to Vaughn Jones is the first of 100,000 his agency expects to make in the next four years under the new program.

'VACUUM SWEEPER' MOVES CORN AT PRENTICE

Farmers of the Prentice area have been storing corn in the C.C.C. wooden bins for the past two weeks. The Swain brothers, John and Kenneth, are in charge of filling the 40 bins and Lee A. Husted, 750 W. Douglas avenue, Jacksonville, is the site supervisor.

The Swain brothers are using a sucker-blower device, the only one of its kind in Morgan county. Powered by a 30 horse engine, the machine sucks up shelled corn and blows it into the bins at around 1,200 bushels per hour.

The larger picture shows Mr. Husted, a wooden bin and the business section of the machine. The accompanying photograph shows Forrest Pearn of Ashland, an employee of the Zeller Trucking company, and John Swain chatting as they move the flexible tube over the golden grains.

Youth Who Posed As Brother Loses His Wife To Him

Chicago, Nov. 17.—(AP)—An under legal age printer who posed as his older brother so he could get married lost his new wife today to his older brother.

The strange mixup started four months ago when Thomas Henry, 17, married Joan Schettler, 19, after a whirlwind courtship.

Thomas posed as his brother, Neil, 21, a merchant seaman away on a voyage. Not even his bride discovered the deception until Neil returned home last month.

Today Judge Rudolph Desort annulled the marriage, saying: "This punishes the boy far beyond the power of the court. By his act of deception he lost the thing he wanted and cherished most—his wife."

A short time later Joan's attorney, Charles Cooley, hurried back into the courtroom. He told the astonished Judge that Joan and Neil want to be married and want Judge Desort to perform the ceremony.

"I'll—I'll consider it," the Judge said. No date has been set for the marriage.

San Diego, Calif., Nov. 17.—(AP)—An 80-year-old man was slowly crushed to death between a truck loaded with six tons of earth and a concrete retaining wall in a driveway here yesterday.

Charles E. Duffy, 24, the truck driver, said he was backing the vehicle down the steep driveway when the brakes failed. He said he attempted to turn the truck against the narrow passageway, but the vehicle shifted and wedged Daley against the wall.

The other two were donated by the bus company. Mr. Jackson expressed thanks to all who assisted during the day. He especially mentioned the cash donations made by the Ideal Bakery, Moose Lodge, Kiwanis club, Amvets, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Elks club.

Muskegon, Mich., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Two young teachers who will be miles away from home on Thanksgiving day are advertising for guests to help eat their turkey dinner.

"Why will food prices go up if the anti-trust lawyers win their suit to put A & P out of business?"
Here is just one of a number of reasons:
"We manufacture many of the quality foods we sell in our stores, such as Red Cello and Eight O'Clock coffees, Ann Page foods, White House milk, and many others. Because this serves us money we are able to pass along these savings to our customers in the form of lower prices."
"The anti-trust lawyers have asked the court to order us to get rid of our manufacturing facilities, which would put an end to all these savings."
"Make no mistake about it. If the anti-trust lawyers succeed in putting A & P out of business you will find your food bill is higher."

DeMolay Chapter To Mark Parents' Day This Sunday

DeMolay obligatory parents' day will be observed by Louis Henry Clappitt chapter on Sunday, Nov. 20. Each DeMolay is urged to attend a special church service on that date with his parents.

The service will be at the Centenary Methodist church, with Rev. John Collins, pastor, in charge. A special sermon for the day will be given and the DeMolays will perform their nine o'clock Interpolation. All parents and DeMolays are requested to meet at the Centenary church at 10:30 a. m.

Parents' day is made obligatory for every chapter of the order in the world, and will be celebrated on Sunday throughout the Order's posts. The committee in charge of preparations for this observance locally is composed of Warren Ferguson, chairman; Ray Eldridge, Jr., and Donald Porter. A large attendance is anticipated.

Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Masonic Temple, officers in both initiatory and DeMolay degrees will practice for the special victory class on Nov. 22. Details of the class will be announced in the near future. All officers are requested to be in attendance as this is the only practice scheduled before degree work next Tuesday.

Raccoons Have Become Nuisance

Washington—(AP)—The whims of civilization are often echoed in nature.

Raccoon is out of favor for fur coats. So trappers don't catch 'coons any more. So there are more 'coons—so many that they're beginning to damage truck farms and corn fields in some sections. They're even causing trouble for the trappers themselves by following trap lines and damaging pelts of other animals, muskrats mostly.

So the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is sending 'coon pelts to factories and laboratories in a search for other uses that will cut down on the little masked animals again.

What It Means: The Dollar

Washington—Those rectangular pieces of green paper you carry in your pocketbook are just about as popular as any commodity in the world today. When proud old nations knuckled under and devalued their currencies to make them worth less in terms of the American dollar, the young American greenback really came into its own.

Once upon a time it "wasn't worth a Continental." That was when the Continental Congress turned out 210,000,000 on printing presses during the American Revolution. In terms of gold and other nations' money, the Continental dollars were worth only a fraction of their face value.

The dollar got on its feet when Congress, after the Constitution had been adopted, established the present monetary system in 1792. Congress began coining dollars at the Philadelphia mint in 1793.

They were all metal coins—gold eagles (worth $10) and fractions of eagles, silver dollars and fractions of dollars and copper cents and half cents.

The Federal Government didn't turn out any paper money until the Civil War, when "greenbacks" were first issued. Banks operating under federal or state charters issued notes as currency—and much of the paper eventually became badly depreciated in value.

There was a great hullabaloo when the government made greenbacks legal tender, requiring that they be accepted in payment of debts. People are inclined to be distrustful of paper money, and even today folks don't like to handle it in some towns in our western states.

But the dollar managed to hold its own in relation to gold and the mighty British pound. Through most of our history the pound has been worth about $4.86. After the first World War it began to slip. In 1920 the pound was worth only $3.66.

It was back to its normal $4.86 by 1930. But in 1932 it dropped to its lowest point up to that time, to $3.50 in U. S. money. Then it fluctuated wildly. In 1934 it reached the highest value of which the Federal Reserve System has a record, $5.03. In 1941 it sold for $4.03, and that was its official rate until the recent devaluation sent it down to $2.80.

The reason for the rise of the dollar in relation to the pound is primarily America's new position as a creditor nation. For more than a century we bought more from the rest of the world than the world bought from us. But in about 1920 we became the world's investment banker. Now we have so many things that the world wants to buy that our dollars are in unprecedented demand, throwing other currencies off balance.

The word dollar was in general use before our government adopted it. One or another form of the word designated many kinds of European currency. It came from the Greek word thaler. In Dutch it was the Daalder. In German it was the taler. Spanish "pieces of eight" were called dollars.

The dollar sign also was in use before the Revolution. It is believed to have designated the Mexican peso. It was first written "Ps." Later manuscripts show the "P" superimposed on the "S" which seems to be how we got the dollar sign.

Today there are about 53 billion dollars in the world. About 28 billion of them are in circulation. Most of the rest are held in the U. S. Treasury. There they are in the custody of Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark, treasurer of the United States, whose signature also appears on all paper money now being produced.

Another woman, Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, for 16 years has been in charge of the manufacture of all U. S. coins. As director of the mint, she has in that time turned out about $1,028,000,000 worth of metal money.

There's another interesting fact about women and American money. The Institute of Life Insurance has estimated that 70 per cent of the nation's private wealth is controlled by women.

The Hawaiian Islands have less area than New York City, which is about 365 square miles.

Brothers Claim Age Record

Borger, Tex.—J. C. Cabbell, Borger real estate dealer, believes he and his four brothers are the nation's oldest living quintet of brothers.

Though he is 78 years old, Cabbell is the youngest of the brothers. He was born Dec. 1, 1870. The other four: L. C. Cabbell, 92, Ella Ky., born March 20, 1857; Hurshel F. Cabbell, 87, Bosworth, Mo., born June 10, 1862; Emory E. Cabbell, 84, Lothrop, Mo., born Sept. 7, 1855; Robert M. Cabbell, 81, Columbia, Ky., born March 23, 1868.

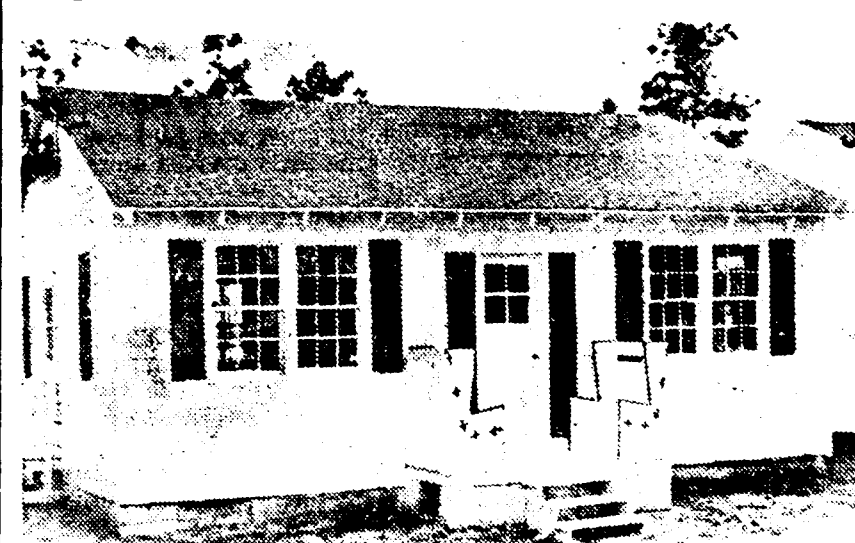

There was a sixth brother. Real

BLOOMING TELEVISION!

New York —(P)—A "bloom" in television never means a flower. Rather it is the glare caused when too much light from an object is reflected into the lens of a camera.
As a result of over-brightness, the camera tube tends to obscure picture detail and a blob or dark spot is produced in the picture.
An example of this effect would be the white bosom front of a man's shirt against the background of his dark tuxedo.
One quart of ice cream is equivalent to the edible portion of 2.3 pounds of chicken.

What It Means: Inter-American Defense System

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington — American defense plans are by no means confined to the North Atlantic area nor to co-operation only with the North Atlantic Pact nations.

The U. S. is working as closely as ever with the other American Republics in mutual defense arrangements. The Inter-American Defense Board has just been reorganized, and it will continue indefinitely to prepare plans for cooperative effort in case any of the 21 American republics is attacked by an outside power.

The board has new quarters at 2600 16th St. N. W. in Washington. In it about 60 military men from all the republics are at work. Chairman of the board is Lt. Gen. Willis D. Crittenden, former head of the U. S. Army's Caribbean Defense Command. He is also chairman of the military advisers to the U. S. delegation to the United Nations.

He has also just been named deputy representative for the United States on the Military Committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Military Organization. Gen. Omar Bradley is the representative. Since Bradley has full duties as chief of U. S. military forces, it is assumed Crittenden will be a key man in the new job.

The technical work of drawing up military plans is handled by a staff under the direction of another American Maj. Gen. Robert L. Walsh, U. S. Air Force. Walsh is also chairman of the Canadian-United States Commission and of the Joint United States-Brazil Defense Commission.

The Inter-American Defense Board has been in the business of preparing plans for multi-national defense for such a long time that its methods and accomplishments are likely to be studied with considerable interest by the men now working on North Atlantic defense plans. Already some of the experts from the North Atlantic group have visited the Inter-American headquarters to establish contacts and obtain information.

Creation of the Inter-American Board was decided upon in the dark hours when the Axis powers were a threat to the security of the Western Hemisphere. Its formation was directed by the meeting of Foreign Ministers of the American Republic at Rio de Janeiro in January 1942.

Military delegations from all the republics met in Washington on March 30, 1942, set up the Inter-American Defense Board. It has been in continuous operation ever since, with headquarters here.

It has drawn up a voluminous set of detailed plans for collective defense action. The plans are sent to each of the governments when completed. They become binding after the separate governments adopt them.

The plans have included such subjects as home defense units, training in the detection of clandestine radio transmissions, exchange of air information, transit of military aircrafts, organization and operation of irregular forces, supervision of tele-communications, protection of merchant marine, security against sabotage, production of strategic materials, anti-submarine defense and inter-American transportation.

When the Axis was defeated, the board immediately began long-range plans for mutual defense against any other aggressors. The emphasis has been on standardization of army and technical equipment and on uniformity of organization.

Late in 1945 the board began to consider the matter of reorganization on a permanent basis. Such a reorganization was directed by the Ninth International Conference of American States held at Bogota, Columbia, in the spring of 1948. The reorganization was completed last month.

The work of the board is directed by a council of delegates, in which each nation has one vote. The technical work, handled by the staff, is accompanied chiefly by four permanent committees, designed along the lines of the Army General Staff. The committees are concerned with (1) plans, (2) intelligence, (3) training and organization and (4) logistics.

PATTERSON

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kilmer of Detroit, Mich., who have been visiting relatives at White Hall, spent Friday with Mrs. Lora Fry.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thornton, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lemington of White Hall, spent the weekend in Murphysboro visiting Mrs. A. Dunlap and Mrs. Della Fox and son.

Mrs. Mildred McEvers and granddaughter, Jerrie Dawdy, spent from Friday till Sunday in Peoria visiting Misses Naomi McEvers and Katherine Dawdy. Others visiting there during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dawdy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dawdy and family and Mr. and Mrs. Earl McEvers and son, Stanley.

FRENCH VS. U. S. WINES

Hollywood—(P)—There is room for both French and California wines on America's dinner tables, says Ernest Des Balleys, a vintage connoisseur. France has yet to be surpassed in making "really fine" wines, but it can't compete with lower cost wines produced in the U. S.

Des Balleys expressed these views after returning from a 23-day tour of such French vineyard areas as Anjou, Touraine, Bordeaux, Cotes-du-Rhone, Alsace, Champagne and Cognac. Fine French wines are tops, he said, because of differences in climate and soil and the more personal supervision of the product. Des Balleys added that contrary to some reports, the Germans did not take the best wines out of France.

PRINCESS GETS BIKE

London—(P)—Princess Margaret has a new iridescent green and gold bicycle. It is the first bicycle to come out of the first Coventry factory to be rebuilt after the World War II blitz. The factory gave it to her.

Its hand-engraved head badge of enamel took several months to make. Princess Margaret in thanking the makers said she was taking the bike to Windsor Castle where she hoped to get many hours' use out of it.

South Dakota's Bad Lands are 5,200 square miles in area.

BEWARE THE WHITE LINE—You can hypnotize yourself into an accident by watching the white center line too closely, says Carol Lane of New York, travel expert for the Shell Oil Co. "A drowsy or overtired driver who stares steadfastly at the line and fails to keep a sharp eye on oncoming cars and side traffic is almost certain to meet disaster sooner or later," she warns. Use the white line as a safety guide, not as a possible hypnotic trap.

The CAMEO
By Virginia Teale
Copyright, 1949, MEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Martin Falter was murdered with a small, sharp pointed instrument which has not been found. His death seemed to involve a valuable cameo which he had tried to sell. The body had been reported to police by Tom O'Neill, whose wife Nell was supposed to own the cameo. But before the report to police, Hagar Blair and Stephanie Smith, her assistant, had found the body.
The police have learned this but they do not know that Hagar later found the cameo placed in her collection cabinet. Hagar believes it was put there by Arnold Pfeffer, who was commissioned by Falter to sell the cameo. Assistant Chief of Police Peters on the case is Charlie Reddy, a young lawyer, and Lansing Trotter, a federal agent. The case has international roots, says Trotter, and Martin Falter had previously served a term for blackmail.

CHARLIE REDDY swerved the car away from a day-dreaming corner spool. "Even the dogs are asleep in this town," he said to Chief Peters. "Say! Did the coroner find what put Martin to sleep?"
"The good old stand-by, sleeping pills!" came the reply. "Same kind that knock people off all the time. Ought to be a stricter law on those things. Coroner Hughes said the pills alone probably would have done for Falter. That's the one good clue we've got. The murderer must've been drinking wine with Falter—granting that the same person did the poisoning and the stabbing."
As the police car pulled up in front of Falter's, Reddy found a parking place after some difficulty and followed the chief through a warm of people to the porch where Police Officer Abrams was keeping sightseers away. They entered the studio and Reddy rammed his hands in his pockets and turned toward the bedroom.
"Think I'll take another look around in here."
The chief plodded after him:
"Fingerprints won't tell us anything. Probably 100 different people running in and out of here within the last week. No clues, no weapon, no—"

He broke off, noticing that Reddy was gazing at the blood-stained bed.
"Funny looking pillows. Man'd get a kink in his neck sleeping on those things." He ambled over and idly banged a huge fist on one end of the bolster. It sank a few inches and the chief worked to straighten it. "Look at that, now," he fussed, "man'd spend half the night standing on his head in this dratted bed." He gave the bolster a mighty tug and then took an astonished step backward.
The two men stared down silently into a rectangular hole between the edge of the mattress and the headboard. The chief reached down and explored a wood frame built in neatly on a level with the bottom of the mattress.
"Keep something here." Reddy chewed his underlip thoughtfully.
"Box of some kind, probably."
Suddenly he made a dash for the other room.
"Chief!" he called. "This is it."
He strode through the door carrying a narrow box of unpainted wood.
The two men saw at once that it fitted the hole perfectly.
Peters scratched his head:
"Question is, what was in it?
Murderer made off with whatever it was. Money, d'you think?"
"Maybe. But remember what
Trotter said about blackmail?
Seems to me we're faced with the problem of the Missing Papers."

ANDREY YAKOV, sitting comfortably in front of his hearth, stretched his stockinged feet toward the slow dancing flames.
The firelight was absorbed by the dull red of his flannel lounging robe, but it was reflected vividly in the cobalt eyes of the Siamese cat sitting on the arm of his chair.
He stroked the cat's tawny-colored fur.
"When we return to Russia, Babushka, I will provide you with caviar. Occasionally. It is the only thing you will like about Russia."

He walked over to the painting
he had been working on:
"Have you examined this, my friend? For one afternoon's work, it is a remarkably good piece. I show something here, a certain quality, which is the essence of the American—man or woman. A combination of qualities, perhaps:
defiance, aggressiveness, determination. Look here at these eyes.
Babushka: Dark and sharp and cunning like a fox! And even this unbeautiful hair, like steel wire, shows the character of the woman.
And note the chin: Like a rock!"
"It is what you see in this face, Babushka, that will change the tide of destiny. It is typical of what you may see in millions of faces in this country. In some,
more; in some, less."

From the canvas on the easel,
Hagar Blair glared at him chal-lengingly.

BABUSHKA, who had been strolling aimlessly around the room, stiffened suddenly. Her head alert. Voices were approaching the front door.
Yakov knit his heavy dark eyebrows and glanced at his watch:
"So! They had come, even if not at the polite calling hour."
Babushka growled and leaped to a vantage point on the high back of a chair. Yakov opened the door.

Three men stood outside. One was an exceedingly large man, he had a bland, moon face and wore a dark green uniform with a Sam
Brown belt, police badge and a holstered revolver. Of the other two men, Yakov looked first at the dapper, middle-aged one with sandy hair who held a fragrant smoking briar pipe in one well-kept hand. The third man was young, handsome, well-built, and had sharply intent gray eyes.

Yakov gave the trio a pleasant
nod. "Yes, gentlemen?"
Chief Peters was equally pleasant: "Mr. Andrey Yakov? I'm
Peters, police chief in Dolorosa.
Mr. Trotter, here, and Mr. Reddy are working with me. We have a few questions to ask you. Won't take long."

a dark green uniform with a Sam
Brown belt, police badge and a holstered revolver. Of the other two men, Yakov looked first at the dapper, middle-aged one with
sandy hair who held a fragrant
smoking briar pipe in one well-kept hand. The third man was young, handsome, well-built, and
had sharply intent gray eyes.

Yakov gave the trio a pleasant
nod. "Yes, gentlemen?"
Chief Peters was equally pleasant: "Mr. Andrey Yakov? I'm
Peters, police chief in Dolorosa.
Mr. Trotter, here, and Mr. Reddy
are working with me. We have a few questions to ask you. Won't take long."
